The contractor shall make necessary arrangement at his own cost to the satisfaction of Member Secretary for actual weighment of random sample from the available stock and shall confirm with the specification laid down by the Bureau of Indian standards or other standard institutions as the case may be. Cement shall be got tested for all the tests as directed by the Member Secretary at least once in a month in advance before the use of cement bags brought and kept at site go-down.

Cement bags required for testing shall be supplied by the contractor free of cost.

- c) The contractor should store the cement of 60 days requirement at least one month in advance to ensure the quality of cement so brought to site and shall not remove the same without the written permission of the Member Secretary.

The contractor shall forthwith remove from the works area any cement that the Member Secretary may disallow for use on account of failure to meet with required quality and standard.

- d) The contractor will have to construct sheds for storing cement having capacity not less than the cement required for 90 days use at appropriate locations at the work site. The Member Secretary or the representatives shall have free access to such stores at all times.
- e) The contractor shall further at all times satisfy the Member Secretary on demand by production of records and books or by submission of returns and other proofs as directed that the cement is being used as tested and approved by Member Secretary for the purpose and the contractor shall at all times keep his records up to date to enable the Member Secretary to apply such checks as he may desire.
- f) Cement which has been unduly long in storage with the contractor or alternatively has deteriorated due to inadequate storage and thus become unfit for use on the work shall be rejected by the department and no claims will be entertained. The contractor shall forthwith remove from the work area any cement the Member Secretary may disallow for use on work and replace it by cement complying with the relevant Indian Standards.

101.5 STEEL

The contractors shall procure mild steel (M S) reinforcement bars, High yield strength deformed bars (HYSD) bars, rods and structural steel etc., required for the works, only from the main or secondary producers, manufacturing steel to the prescribed specification of Bureau of Indian Standards or equivalent and licensed to affix ISI or other equivalent certifications marks and acceptable to the Member Secretary. Necessary test certificates for each consignment are to be produced to Member Secretary before use on works. The original bills of procurement should be submitted to the Member Secretary for making payment of the item.

The diameter and weight of steel should be as follows:

S.No.	Diameter of rod	Sectional weight in Kg/RM both for Plain and HYSD steel
1.	6 MM	0.22
2.	8 MM	0.39
3.	10 MM	0.62

13.	33 MM	6.71
14.	36 MM	7.99
15.	40 MM	9.86
16.	42 MM	10.88

Note: If any rods other than those diameters specified above are procured the weights shall be as per standard steel tables.

102 STORAGES OF CEMENT etc.,

- 102.1 It is often necessary to store Portland cement, sometimes for a period month. This is particularly true when transportation facilities must be need to their capacity and deliveries.
- 102.2 Portland cement readily absorbs moisture not only in the form of free water but also moisture from the atmosphere or from damp material in contact with it and becomes hydrated and loses strength. It is necessary therefore that it should be protected from absorption of moisture before it is used if it is to fulfill its function. An absorption of one or two percent of water has not appreciable effect but further amounts of absorption, results in hardening of the cement and reduced the strength. If the absorption exceeds 5% the cement is for all ordinary purposes ruined. Finally ground cement stored in stacks tend to deteriorate more than coarse cements. In this respects normal hardening Portland cement and high aluminium cements at least affected than rapid hardening Portland cement.
- 102.3 American, Spanish and German experiments have shown that on average the strength of cement stress in bags is reduced.
- After 3 months by 15 to 20 percent.
 - After 6 months by 20 to 30 percent.
 - After 12 months by 30 to 50 percent.
 - After 2 years by 10 to 50 percent.
 - After 4 1/2 years by 50 to 60 percent.
- 102.4 These figures prove that special attention should be paid to the storage of cement, even when its strength is equal to or suspense's the specified normal strength.
- 102.5 With an extensive range of climate conditions, it is difficult to lay down universal rules for the storage of cement by the general principle should always be kept in mind that it must be protected as far as possible from any form of moisture prior to mixing concrete mortar.
- 102.6 During the dry weather in main parts of the country where the relative humidity of the atmosphere even in nights is low (that is to say when there is very little moisture in the air) little or no protection may be necessary and the cement in its stock may require no more than a tarpaulin through for the stack. But there are parts of the country particularly near the coast where the atmosphere is always damp at any time of day or night and then greater precautions are necessary. In such place such as the west coast and the Nilgiris and period when heavy rain falls are encountered such greater care has to be taken of the cement and proper strength provided it from the damp.
- 102.7 Whenever there is any possibility of the cement exposed to moisture either in the atmosphere or actual ratio it should be stored in a well-constructed dry go-down or shed. The cement store should be whether right construction preferable with terraced roofing with a sound wooden or ground to ensure that it is damp proof building with plant roofing are prohibited because of their tendency to leak. Corrugated sheets roofing has tendency to the condense moisture and should be protected by field to prevent wind and rain driving through cement should not be placed directly on cement plaster flooring and other types of flooring commonly meant with which are not damp proof. A wooden platform or false floor a sheet of water proof paper should be provided.
- If none of these is possible than floor should be covered with straw, hay, cinder or ash or such other material densely and uniformly packed to a thickness of at least one inch and over a laid worth tarpaulin of old cement large windows and ventilators if any should be slightly shut to prevent from circulation of air inside the stone's drainage should be provided if necessary to prevent accumulation of water in the vicinity of the store.

- 102.8 Cement should be stored in piles arranged parallel to the walls. It is advisable to pile bags against the walls and an allowance of at least 0.3M all round should be made between the exterior walls piles at least 0.6M wide should be left for each access and delivery. The outside stacks deteriorate a similar pile. Successive consignments covered with some water proof cover as a both measure of protection and prevent the free circulation of air as each lot of proper fresh air will bring in more moisture. Once the cement has been properly stored should not be disturbed until it is to be used. There is no advantage in moving and stacking the bags to reduce where house set as this practice only exposes fresh cement to the air resulting in loss due to the shifting of cement through the cloth mesh and in damage to the stacks.
- 102.9 Cement required for use immediately after delivery to the site may be stored in the open on a raised damp proof floor so long as it is fully protected by tarpaulin or either weather resisting covers. Storage under these conditions should be limited to 48 hours. The tarpaulin should be raised well above the top most Tie of bags and must be sloped for rapid drainage in case of showers.
- 102.10 The storage place required for a given quantity of cement can be calculated from the following date. If spread losses over the floor of a store to a depth of 1st floor a ton of cement required about 2.50 Sqm. If stored in paper bags laid on their side the area required is 5.00 Sqm to 6.00 Sqm. per ton if laid in a single tier and proportionately less if laid on more than one tier. If the bags are stacked in any other manner feet portion the minimum area provided should be increased to allow space for passenger etc., to avoid house set in any case not more than 15 bags. If stacked higher than this the pressure on the bottom bags is liable to burst at or form clad in damp water apart from handling difficulties because of their height.
- 102.11 Consignments should be used in the same sequences as they are delivered. To ensure this the date of arrival of each consignment should be clearly indicated. This is best done by tying a piece of country twines or cord to the end bags in the bottom most tier of the days pile, tacking the two places of card up the sides and along the top of pile a tying the main the centre. The date of receipt in the store being clearly written on a bin card high from the card. Dead storage where the cement remains in place for a long time which other consignments of cement come in and out should be avoided.
- 102.12 In issuing cement from a store, the cement bags should be removed in vertical column of the pile and not horizontal so as to avoid dead stoppage space.
- 102.13 As a rule, cement should not be stored longer than three months and if time is exceeded the material should be retested being needed. Especially in the rainy season prolonged storage should be avoided. If stuck is likely to be held over for more than three months anticipatory measures should be taken to use it on the works.
- 102.14 Cement that has become supply due to storage in damp positions due to exposure to the weather is generally useless for making concrete and should be removed from the site. Air set lumps that can be broken down to floor with the pieces. If such lumps are innumerable, it is easier to screen them out and discard them if the proportion of air cement is considerable. The fine material after screening should be tested to determine whether it has become defective.
- 102.15 The cement in bags is stored in high piles for long periods. There is often a slight tendency in the lower layers to harden, caused by the pressure above this is known as warehouse set. Cement in this condition, an every wet not for service and can be reconditioned by letting each drop on a solid surface for using the cement contained.
- 102.16 All cement concrete shall be machine mixed and machine vibrated.
- 102.17 The proportions of cement concrete specified in the above schedule are nominal and are indication of approximate proportion of cement, fine aggregate and coarse aggregate which may have to be altered suitably at site to obtain desired strength and workability. However, the quantity of cement all not be less than specified below:

103 Conditions on Roof Slabs and Stripping time

103.1 The R.C.C. slab laid should be leak proof. After observing for two rainy seasons if the roof or floor is found to be perfectly leak proof and no moisture or dampness is seen underneath at ceiling of the slab, the contractor can ask for refund of E.M.D. or F.S.D. from the department. If there are any defects noticed after laying of roof they must be attended to by the contractor at his own cost. Further the contractor must arrange to get the structure treated as per clause 21 of ISI code No.456/2000 at his own cost on the instructions of the department.

When R.C.C. slab is laid the following tests may be carried out by the contractor at his own cost to prove that the slab is impervious.

After the centering is removed and curing period is over the slab shall be put to test by pouring water to 15 cms. depth and watched carefully for period not less than a week.

If leakage is observed immediate action should be taken to rectify it by the contractor at his own cost and again tested to see that there are no leakages.

The officer observing the leakage test shall issue a certificate to this effect before final bill is made.

The variation thickness of R.C.C. roof slab due to varying spans, or special covering materials should not affect the general roof bed which should be uniform unless otherwise shown in drawings or instructed.

For roof slab to be laid MS hooks to be provided as directed by the department for fixing fans and lighting G.I. pipes of 12mm or 20mm diameter supplied by the department at site has to be provided in the masonry walls of a concrete at the specified places as directed by the department for making electrical wiring. No payment will be made to the contractor for these sundry items of work.

For roof slabs water has to be stagnated for 15 cm depth for one week to test the leakages if any. If there are any leakages the contractor has to rectify the same as directed by the department at the cost of the contractor. No payment will be made to the contractor on this account either for testing or for rectifications thus stagnated.

103.2 Stripping Time: Forms shall not be struck until the concrete has reached a strength at least twice the stress to which the concrete may be subjected at the time of removal of form work. The strength referred to shall be that of concrete using the same cement and aggregates, with the same proportions and cured under conditions of temperature and moisture similar to these existing on the work. Where possible, the form work shall be left longer as it would assist the curing.

Note 1: - In normal circumstances and where ordinary Portland cement is used form work may generally be removed after the expiry of the following period.

- a) Walls, Columns and Vertical faces - 24 to 48 hours as may be of all structural members decided by the Engineer-in-charge
- b) Slabs (props left under) 3 days
- c) Beam sop fits (props left under) 7 days
- d) Removal of props under slabs
 - i) Spanning upto 4.5 Mts. 7 days
 - ii) Spanning over 4.5 Mts. 14 days
- e) Removal of props under Beams & Arches
 - i) Spanning upto 6 Mts. 14 days
 - ii) Spanning over 6 Mts. 21 days

For other cements the stripping time recommended for ordinary Portland cement may be suitably modified.

Note2:- The number of props left under the concrete element, their sizes and description, shall be such that they shall be able to safely carry the full dead load of the slab, beam or arch as the case may be together with any live load likely to occur during curing or further construction.
